Future Forward: Leading Change, Renewing Mission

Lutheran Services in America (LSA) is one of the largest health and human services networks in the country. Our members span the spectrum of care, providing critical services in communities across the country, from health care to disaster relief, senior care, youth development, refugee resettlement, disability support, housing, veterans' services and more.

The LSA network is a powerful force driving collaboration, innovation and programs in communities throughout the U.S. and parts of the Caribbean. As a network, our members touch 1 in 50 American lives each year in all 50 states, serving a broad diversity of low-income, vulnerable people of all faiths and backgrounds.

As the national voice of Lutheran social ministry, LSA creates opportunities to work with our members to be more transformative; serves as the catalyst for meaningful change and collective action; shares knowledge and replicates programs; builds resilience; and connects our members to opportunities to collaborate, seek funding and drive public policy.

Our strategic priorities:

- Leverage our national network to provide funding and service opportunities for our members
- Help our members evolve and transform in a rapidly changing environment
- Create and maintain close and trusted relationships among members
- Advocate at the national level on our members' behalf and serve as the voice of our Network

Transforming Lives

“ I loved listening to the stories of the seniors as we grew food together. I learned where food came from and how to be healthy all my life. ”

JOCELYN

Lutheran Settlement House (LHS)

Seventeen-year-old Jocelyn was a resident of the Lutheran Settlement House shelter along with her mother, sister and brother. Through the innovative and award-winning Intergenerational Farm Program that pairs teens with members of the LHS Senior Center to grow hundreds of pounds of food per season, Jocelyn learned gardening and healthy eating skills and helped prepare meals in the shelter kitchen for the holidays.

LARRY
Lutheran Social Service of Minnesota

“ I started working for Lutheran Social Service of Minnesota two years ago as an Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Advocate. My job is very rewarding because I ... help people with disabilities learn about the rights they have. I love getting to meet so many new and wonderful people and hear their stories. ”

SOM
Lutheran Community Services Northwest (LCS)

Som and his family arrived in Portland, OR in 2008 after years of isolation in a refugee camp. Expelled from the Himalayan kingdom of Bhutan, Som now works as a refugee case manager in LCS' Refugee Resettlement Program and has purchased a home. As a leader in the local Bhutanese community, he works tirelessly to help other refugee families build a new life and thrive.

“ It is clear from our example that mentors and volunteers can change the lives of refugees. ”
